Tamra Chyawanprash (500 g)

Traditional Ayurvedic Tonic for Immunity, Digestion & Vitality

Tamra Chyawanprash is a classical Ayurvedic formulation prepared using Amla (Indian gooseberry), Dashmool herbs, Astavarga, saffron, and A2 cow ghee. It is designed to enhance immunity, improve digestion, support respiratory health, and boost overall energy and vitality. Rich in natural antioxidants and Vitamin C, it fortifies the body's defense system and helps in fighting seasonal infections.

This formulation acts as a Rasayana, aiding in tissue rejuvenation and promoting longevity. Its adaptogenic properties help reduce fatigue and improve stamina. The herbs used also contribute to better digestion and absorption of nutrients, making it ideal for daily wellness.

Key Benefits

- Strengthens the immune system and promotes general well-being
- Supports healthy respiratory function and protects against seasonal ailments
- Enhances digestive efficiency and balances gut health
- Rejuvenates tissues and delays the signs of aging
- Improves strength, stamina, and energy levels

Suggested Usage

Adults: 1–2 teaspoons daily, preferably on an empty stomach or before breakfast, with warm milk or water.

Children: Half the adult dosage, or as directed by a healthcare professional.

Precautions

Contains natural sweeteners; individuals with diabetes or specific dietary restrictions should consult a physician before use. May cause mild acidity or heat in Pitta-dominant individuals; consuming with milk can reduce such effects.
